

35th ANNUAL OCCUPATIONAL & ENVIRONMENTAL MEDICINE SYMPOSIUM

Saturday, May 6, 2017

UC Davis Center for Health and Technology
4610 X Street, First Floor, Room 1341
Sacramento, CA 95817

Designed for physicians, nurses, and other occupational and environmental health professionals practicing in clinics, industry, government, military, and other sites.

This activity has been approved for a maximum of 6.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

This course has been approved to satisfy the ABPM MOC patient safety requirement.

PRESENTATIONS

Magdalena Cerdá, DrPH, MPH

Understanding and Reversing the Tide of the Prescription Opioid Epidemic

Richard Riemer, DO

First Do No Harm: The Challenge of Opioids in the Occupational Clinic

Ray Meister, MD, MPH

New Rules for Workers' Comp Prescribing: Meet the Formulary

Nicholas Kenyon, MD, MAS

Phenotyping Patients with Environmental and Occupational Asthma

Sarah Kim, MD

Challenges and Opportunities for Managing Diabetes in the Workplace

Craig Conlon, MD, PhD

Clinical Issues in Identifying and Treating Occupational Carpal Tunnel Syndrome

Mark Cullen, MD

Big Data in the Study of Occupational Health: The Alcoa Study

Michelle Famula, MD

Addressing Common Mental Health Conditions in the Workplace: A Practical Approach

Cal Hirsch, MD

Are We Ready for an Aging Workforce?

Carisa Harris-Adamson PhD, CPE, PT

Common Neck and Upper Extremity Musculoskeletal Disorders in the Workplace

University of California, Davis, Health is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UC DAVIS HEALTH

SPONSORED BY
UC Davis Health
Office of Continuing Medical Education and the Center for Occupational and Environmental Health

FOR MORE INFORMATION • 916.734.5390 • 866.CME4EDU • cme.ucdavis.edu